

About the Presenter

Roger Mortimer, M.D. is an associate clinical professor of family medicine with the University of California, San Francisco. He is also the Western Region coordinator for the National Cave Rescue Commission. He has been avidly caving since 1986, participating in expeditions to Austria, China, and Malaysian Borneo. He has been a n instructor for the NCRC since 1997.